ROOSEVELT REQUESTS QUICK ACTION

President Urges That All Sound Banks Begin Regular Business Again

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—President Roosevelt in his message to congress today proposed immediate opening of all sound banks and provisions for currency expansion during the banking reorganization.

"I can not too strongly urge upon the congress the clear necessity for immediate action," he declared.

He will request of congress "At an early moment" two other measures which he regards of "immediate urgency."

It was understood in capitol quarters that these would refer to granting him power to cut federal expenses drastically, including those for veterans, and also for getting to work on a huge public-building program to provide employment.

"It is my belief," the president told congress in a message of 500 words, "that this legislation (banking legislation) will not only lift immediately all unwarranted doubts and suspicions in regards to banks which are 100 per cent sound but will also mark the beginning of a new relationship between the banks and the people of this country."

The text follows:

Text of Message.

"To the senate and house of representatives:

"On March 3 banking operations in the United States ceased. To review at this time the causes of this failure of our banking system is unnecessary. Suffice it to say that the government has been compelled to step in for the protection of depositors and the business of the nation."

"Our first task is to reopen all sound banks. This is an essential preliminary to subsequent legislation directed against speculation with the funds of depositors and other violations of position of trust."

"In order that the first objective—the opening of the banks for the resumption of business—may be accomplished, I ask of the congress the immediate enactment of legislation giving to the executive branch of the government control over banks for the protection of depositors; authority to forthwith to open such banks as have already been ascertained to be in sound condition and other such banks as rapidly as possible; and authority to reorganize and reopen such banks as may be found to require reorganization to put them on a sound basis."

Additional Currency.

"I ask amendments to the federal reserve act to provide for such additional currency, adequately secured, as it may become necessary to issue to meet all demands for currency and at the same time increasing the unsecured indebtedness of the government of the United States."

"I can not too strongly urge upon the congress the clear necessity for immediate action. A continuation of the present situation is a disaster to the country."

DOMESTIC RUN ON GOLD RESULTED IN RECENT SUSPENSION

SIMILAR CRISIS 70 YEARS AGO RECALLED; WEATHERED FOREIGN RUN

By HIRAM HERTZELL
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, March 9.—(P)—The most exciting chapters in financial history concern the expedients—sometimes desperate—to which rulers and governments have resorted to restore public confidence.

Suspension of special payments, one of the most significant angles of the present vivid chapter in American financial experience, is the situation which the country now faces as a result of President Roosevelt's edict ordering a bank holiday.

In fact there is little doubt but that gold payments will be suspended for a time after the banking holiday is lifted, according to well-informed opinion in Wall Street.

In currency language, specie means coined money. The man on the street, ignorant of the intricacies of the gold system, may realize, however, that when gold payments are abandoned something is wrong in the financial system, for he can no longer translate his gold certificates into metal of a similar hue.

A sharply contrasting picture is presented when the reasons which prompted the present holiday on gold payments are tabulated alongside the problem which faced the country 70 years ago, when suspension of specie payments was necessary.

TEXAS BANKS WERE STILL OPERATING ON RESTRICTED BASIS

PAY CHECKS BEING CASHED AT SEVERAL POINTS; OTHERS PLAN EARLY BUSINESS

By the Associated Press.

Texas banks continued to operate under restrictions today while financial leaders awaited congressional action and further amplification of instructions already issued.

At Corsicana, pay checks for reasonable amounts were cashed, but the usual limit was about $30, with partial payment on checks above that figure. In some of the larger cities, 20 per cent of the payrolls were met in cash and the rest by check.

For the third consecutive day Galveston banks opened to cash payroll checks and provide for necessities as set forth by Secretary of the Treasury Woodin. All Beaumont banks were open but the emergency change station was closed after operating two days.

Banks at San Antonio, Tyler, Waco and Pampa conducted little business but made preparations for an immediate reopening should federal permission be granted. Waco merchants still were taking checks and the depot for making change was maintained, under guard, at the city hall.

San Antonio Plans Scrip.

SAN ANTONIO, March 9.—(P)—Scrip or clearing house certificates probably will be used locally if the impending federal legislative banking reform restricts currency withdrawals to a nominal amount.

L. L. Lentz, president of the San Antonio Clearing House Association, said today:

"There is plenty of money here and in the country outside of what may be hoarded. Scrip is not necessary, but here is what we are up against: Trying to guess what the secretary of the treasury and congress will do."

"Undoubtedly congress will pass some sort of restrictions on currency withdrawals. Suppose congress limited currency withdrawals down to a nominal amount we would be bound to go to scrip to fill out circulation," he said.

Jimmie Walker Is Sued For Divorce

Desertion Alleged

MIAMI, Fla., March 9.—(P)—Mrs. Janet Allen Walker today sued James J. Walker, former mayor of New York City, for divorce in the circuit court of Dade county. She alleged desertion.

ALL CHICAGO PAYS HOMAGE TO MARTYRED MAYOR A. J. CERMAK

CHICAGO, March 9.—(P)—Citizens of Chicago today continued to do homage and pay respects at the bier of their assassinated mayor, Anton J. Cermak.

Surging crowds greeted the body on its arrival yesterday from Miami, Fla., and throughout the day and evening admirers of the late democratic leader passed through the residence at the rate of 2,000 an hour.

Today's program called for removal of the body to the City Hall which for so many years was the stage of Cermak's career. There for another day it was scheduled to rest upon a catafalque draped in purple and black velvet that other thousands might view it.

TEXT OF EMERGENCY BANKING BILL GIVEN CONGRESS THURSDAY

IS MEASURE TO GIVE RELIEF IN EXISTING NATIONAL BANKING SITUATION

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—The text of the emergency banking bill follows:

A bill to provide relief in the existing national emergency in banking, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the congress hereby declares that a serious emergency exists and that it is imperatively necessary speedily to put into effect remedies of uniform national application.

Section 1. The actions, regulations, rules, licenses, order and proclamations heretofore or hereafter taken, promulgated, made, or issued by the president of the United States or the secretary of the treasury since March 4, 1933, pursuant to the authority conferred by subdivision (b) of section 5 of the act of October 6, 1917, as amended, are hereby approved and confirmed.

HEADLIGHT LAW IS REPEALED BY TEXAS SENATE THURSDAY

DEBATE STARTED ON SENATE BILL EXTEND POWERS INSURANCE COMMISSION

AUSTIN, March 9.—(P)—The senate today passed a house bill repealing the headlight law. The bill, by a vote of 27 to 2, repealing the automobile headlight law. It will now go to the governor for consideration.

The house deficiency judgment bill, which gave relief from mortgage foreclosures was referred back to the senate committee on civil jurisdiction for a hearing.

The senate confirmed Governor Ferguson's appointment of Dr. J. B. Rader of El Paso to the state board of health.

The house adopted a resolution memorializing congress to pass legislation to provide for speedy construction of a dam and reservoir on the Rio Grande near the Colorado-New Mexico line.

The resolution stated the reservoir was necessary to insure preservation of the waters of the river against seepage and to enable the states of Texas, Colorado and New Mexico to carry out a compact entered into in 1929 concerning division of the waters.

The bill will expire in 1935.

Debate was started in the house on a senate bill to allow the governor and the insurance commission to do whatever was necessary during the banking emergency to protect the assets and policy holders of life insurance companies.

The bill would give the commission power to limit loans on policy reserves and to prohibit withdrawals of cash surrender value.

The house today passed a resolution recommending the appointment of L. A. Robinson of Galveston as

Sound Banks May Reopen Following Passage of Bill

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—The administration is ready to permit the opening of all "sound banks" tomorrow, if the emergency banking bill laid before congress today by President Roosevelt is enacted by that time.

The house already has been going over the condition of all banks. Once the legislation authorizing the president to act is on the statute books, as expected, the officials are ready to name those institutions which may resume activity.

Other banks will be opened as rapidly as their sound condition is proved.

Insolvent institutions will be closed, for examination of their assets by federal "conservators."

In a new proclamation which the president is prepared to issue tonight, he will continue his control over the banking situation and ban any more hoarding of gold.

More than 6,000 Chicagoans changed approximately $1,000,000 into coins and bills of small denomination during the first day's operation of the currency exchange opened by the Federal Reserve Bank in that city. At left a bank guard is shown delivering sacks of silver coins and small bills to the exchange to be exchanged for large bills. At right a line of people wishing to change large bills for small bills and coins. Many went to the exchange with their hoard of gold to exchange it into paper money.

Single Deposit Of $35,000 In Gold Is Made in New York

NEW YORK, March 9.—(P)—The flow of gold out of hoarding today had brought $35,000 in gold coins from one person into the vaults of a downtown bank.

The amount was believed by officials of the Empire Trust Company, 120 Broadway, to be the largest single deposit made by an individual since the federal government suspended gold payments.

A continued federal check of gold.

1. A budget balanced at the quickest opportunity.

2. Retirement of inherited deficits.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., March 9.—(P)—Miss Beulah Halpain, 25, of Pittsburg, Kas., a school teacher at Worland, Mo., and Zack Collins, 27, her former admirer, were killed in a double shooting at Pleasanton, Kas., last night.

Dr. H. L. Clark of Leavene, Lin county, corner, said the evidence was that the teacher shot Collins and then committed suicide.

Bank Situation in Brief

By the Associated Press.

Seventy-third congress called in extraordinary session at noon today to enact legislation to relieve immediately the banking situation.

Federal reserve banks call upon member banks for names of all persons who have withdrawn gold since February 1 and who have not redeposited it before March 15; that names of gold hoarders will be made public is seen in action.

Today is the last of National bank holiday under President Roosevelt's proclamation.

Leaders of both house and senate predict prompt passage today of emergency banking bill.

President Roosevelt issues early morning statement following conference at White House, saying the measure before congress today "will at once start banking operations throughout the entire country."

Plan for national scrip abandoned as bureau of engraving works in three shifts turning out additional federal reserve currency which is believed to be hands of proposed legislation.

The new currency will not have gold backing, but is to be issued on the same basis as treasury notes, which are backed by government bonds.

Chairman Staggall of house banking committee believes national banks will be first to open, with state banks following.

INCREASE IN ICE PRICES POSTED BY TWO LOCAL PLANTS

THIRD PLANT WILL MEET PRICE OF FORTY CENTS PER HUNDRED SATURDAY

Two local ice plants quoted an increase in the price of retail ice Thursday morning while the other plant will increase the price Saturday, according to an announcement Thursday morning.

The price of retail ice was raised to 40 cents per 100 pounds by the Navarro Ice company and the Pure Ice company Thursday.

The schedule for several weeks had been 15 cents per 100 pounds at all local plants.

It was announced at the office of the Southern Ice and Utilities company Thursday by J. W. Edens, Jr., that the low price of 15 cents on the platform and 25 cents delivered would be continued at the plant on South Fourteenth street until Saturday when the price would again be raised to 40 cents per 100 pounds.

The Southern Ice and Utilities company, beginning Saturday, will charge 40 cents per 100 pounds at the platform and 50 cents delivered prices to be started Saturday will be the pre-war prices," Mr. Edens said.

Gold Shipment Halted at Border Aboard Airplane

SAN ANTONIO, March 9.—(P)—A cargo of $250,000 in gold, which was being transported by plane from a New York bank to Mexico City, was halted at Brownsville and today was being shipped back to the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas by express, it was learned at the customs office here.

Customs officials did not seize the gold, it was declared. It was understood that either the bank or the airway officials prevented the cargo from going across the border as the result of President Roosevelt's order barring the export of gold from the United States during the financial crisis.

British Naval Program.

LONDON, March 9.—(P)—British navy estimates for 1933, announced today, provide for a total outlay of 53,570,000 pounds ($183,745,000), an increase of 3,063,700 pounds ($10,611,381) over last year. Of this increase, 2,553,360 pounds is required to make normal progress with new construction.

Emergency Banking Bill Near Passage Thursday As House Acts Quickly

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—The house of representatives at 4:05 p. m., passed the Roosevelt emergency banking bill, and sent it to the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—The senate banking committee today favorably reported the administration's bank bill as introduced earlier in the day.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—War powers for President Roosevelt took shape a few hours after the special congressional session convened today, as its leaders heeded his plea for extensive authority over the nation's banks and to expand the currency greatly.

"Our first task is to reopen all sound banks," said the president in a concise special message. He asked power to do so, and to allow for reorganizations of other institutions under federal supervision.

The legislation was introduced almost immediately in both branches, calling for approval of all the president has done to date and to extend his war time power so he can deal as he sees fit with hoarding, transactions in foreign exchange, and gold usages. The outlook was, if the law is enacted by nightfall, for his new proclamation to be under the new law, carrying through the authority now being exercised over the bank holiday.

LIMITED CASHING PAYROLL CHECKS CORSICANA BANKS UNIFORM POLICY ADOPTED BY THE LOCAL CLEARING HOUSE ASSOCIATION

Approximately $3500 in additional currency was released in Corsicana Wednesday through the cashing of payroll checks by the clearing house association. The banks there, officials reported Thursday morning, otherwise the banks were operating on the same limited scale which has been permitted since Monday under the rules and regulations promulgated by the secretary of the treasury.

Under a uniform policy adopted by the Corsicana Clearing House Association, the banks are cashing paychecks for nominal sums, usually under a $30 limit, and slightly different arrangements are being made with those presenting larger checks. Officials of the association stated that they were making every effort to aid the conducting of business as usual in Corsicana, and declared that they believed the release of this additional currency on the payrolls would soon result in sufficient cash being available for all needs.

They pointed out that the additional cash would enable the merchants to keep their capital liquid in place of being tied up in checks.

Meanwhile the banks are taking every possible precaution to protect themselves and their customers against "hot checks." Customers' checks are being numbered in the order in which they are presented at the banks for collection, and bank officials stated that they would be paid in that order if the restrictions on accounts when the banks are entirely re-opened prevents the immediate payment of all checks.

Local bankers also expressed the belief that the proposed publication of a list of those holding gold or gold certificates would result in the freeing of considerable sums of money.

FATE OF ZANGARA RESTS WITH JUDGE IN CERMAK MURDER

MAN WHO ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATE ROOSEVELT PLEADS GUILTY

MIAMI, Fla., March 9.—(P)—Circuit Judge J. O. Thompson today took under advisement the fate of Giuseppe Zangara, who pleaded guilty to charges of murdering Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago when he had attempted to assassinate President Roosevelt here February 15.

Zangara's plea was entered by Louis F. Twyman, chief of the counsel appointed for him after Zangara himself had said in response to a query as to guilt by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne.

"I want to kill the President. I want to kill all kings and presidents," Zangara apparently started on a lengthy discourse but was halted by Twyman.

The latter said his client would plead guilty to the first count of an indictment returned Monday by a special convened grand jury if the second count was dropped.

The first count charged Zangara with killing Mayor Cermak.

MONEY CIRCULATION IN UNITED STATES REACHED HIGH POINT

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—Circulation of money in the United States increased $906,000,000 to a total of $6,515,716,139 in the month of February.

Gold circulation increased from $478,837,314 to $571,337,850 and the per capita circulation of the country jumped from $45.06 to $52.23, the highest per capita circulation since October 31, 1920, while the total circulation was the highest on record up to that time.

The total money in the country increased from $6,694,125,236 at the end of January to $10,275,195,545 at the end of February. The total gold of the country dropped from $4,543,030,918 at the end of January to $4,373,268,000 at the end of February. Of the total gold the treasury held $3,291,674,172.

GERMANY RE-ARMING WILL BE DISCUSSED BY FRANCE-BRITAIN

PARIS, March 9.—(AP)—French fears that Germany may announce it intends to re-arm are likely to be one of the principal topics of the talks here today and tomorrow between Premier MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of England and Premier Daladier of France.

The French seek to forestall such a possibility by a big power pronouncement against Germany.

The British statesmen will meet Premier Daladier for the first time since the formation of the new French government. They will spend tonight in Paris and leave tomorrow for Geneva for disarmament conference discussions.

It was understood here the British leaders are seeking a five-power conference in Geneva to wind up the disarmament situation.

A strong joint effort to obtain some practical results at Geneva are expected to result from their conversations with M. Daladier.

Other international problems are likely to be discussed but the disarmament question predominates.

Daniels Slated
To Become Head Government Group

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP)—Joseph Daniels, of North Carolina, secretary of the navy during the Wilson administration, was understood in informed circles today to be slated for nomination of a new government group to include the Interstate Commerce commission, the shipping board and the aeronautics branch of the commerce department.

Such a consolidation would bring together the major transportation agencies of the federal government. It has been indicated for some time that something of the sort was contemplated by President Roosevelt.

President Daniels, publisher of the Raleigh News and Observer, was secretary of the navy while Franklin D. Roosevelt was assistant secretary.

Meanwhile, another North Carolinian, C. Leroy Shuping, of Greensboro, was endorsed for commissioner of internal revenue by the state's delegation in the house of representatives.

Pending the consolidation of the transportation agencies, indications have been that Daniels would be appointed chairman of the shipping board.

all of the strangeness of banking facilities is unthinkable. The passage of the proposed legislation will end this condition and I trust within a short space of the time will result in a resumption of business activities.

"In addition, it is my belief that this legislation will not only lift immediately all unwarranted doubts and suspicions in regards to banks which are on hundred per cent sound but will also mark the beginning of a new relationship between the banks and the people of this country.

Grave Responsibility.
"The members of the new congress will realize, I am confident, the grave responsibility which lies upon me and upon them.

"In the short space of five days it is impossible for us to formulate complete measures to prevent the recurrence of the evils of the past. This does not and should not, justify any delay in accomplishing this first step.

"At an early date I shall request of the congress two other measures which I regard as of immediate urgency. With action taken thereon we can proceed to the consideration of a restoration program of national credit.

HIGHLIGHTS

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—Striking lines in President Roosevelt's message to the special session of congress follow:

"Our first task is to reopen all sound banks."

"I ask of the congress the immediate enactment of legislation giving the executive branch of the government control over banks for the protection of depositors."

"I ask amendments to the federal reserve act to provide for such additional currency, adequately secured, as it may become necessary to issue to meet all demands for currency."

"A continuation of the strangeness of banking facilities is unthinkable."

"The passage of this proposed legislation will end this condition and I trust within a short space of time will result in a resumption of business activities."

"In the short space of five days it is impossible for us to formulate complete measures to prevent the recurrence of the evils of the past."

BANK BILL

hibit banks from indulging in any transactions except under regulations laid down by the federal (in case of state banks) the state governments.

Only those banks whose absolute soundness has already been ascertained may be opened immediately, under the bill.

Other banks 100 per cent sound would be opened as fast as they can be checked by the treasury department.

All banks that are opened could obtain cash resources necessary for federal reserve banks by deposit of government bonds and other sound collateral.

Conservators for Weak Banks
Banks whose credit was found to be impaired would be placed under government conservators, who would receive no more compensation than other government employees of similar responsibilities.

An amount equal to the sound assets of these banks would be made available to depositors. Similar provisions would be permitted state banks subject to the approval of the proper state officials.

Furthermore, in the case of these partially reopened banks, new deposits would be received and such deposits kept either in cash or in federal reserve banks or in government bonds. The bill would allow the deposits to be withdrawn in full at any time.

Federal reserve banks would be authorized to issue currency not only against loans made on government securities but on other sound assets as well.

Gives Broad Powers.
The bill in general would give the controller of the currency broad powers to borrow assets of banks for the benefit of depositors and other creditors. The controller would also be authorized to prescribe rules and regulations in order to carry out the provisions therein.

The bill appropriates $2,000,000 for necessary expenditures to be made under the direction of the President, and at his discretion for any purpose in connection with the carrying out provisions of the measure.

The war time powers given to the President by the act of 1917 would be broadened and extended to cover such national emergency as the President shall declare to exist.

The act takes effect immediately. While democratic senators and representatives sought to get quick committee and congressional approval of the bill, the President himself remained at his White House desk at work on related details. He did not deliver his message personally to the senate and house chambers by clerks.

Mrs. Roosevelt attended the house session.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—In a few crisp words President Franklin D. Roosevelt urged the specially convened congress today to empower him immediately to open "sound" banks, to reorganize other banks and to provide currency expansion.

Arrangements were rushed in both senate and house to do his bidding, once formal organization was completed.

Thronged were gathered in the galleries to hear the presidential message read, while he remained at work at his white house desk.

"Our first task is to reopen all sound banks," he declared, and went at once into his immediate enactment of legislation giving to the executive branch of the government control over banks for the protection of depositors, and authorizing the treasury to open such banks as have already been ascertained to be in sound condition and other such banks as rapidly as possible, and authority to reorganize and reopen such banks as may be found to require reorganization to put them on a sound basis.

"I ask amendments to the federal reserve act to provide for such additional currency, adequately secured, as it may become necessary to issue to meet all demands for currency and at the same time to achieve this end without increasing the unsecured indebtedness of the government of the United States."

Immediate Action Urged
"I cannot too strongly urge upon the congress the clear necessity for immediate action."

The president called those recommendations "an essential preliminary to subsequent legislation directed against speculation with the funds of depositors."

He revealed also, that he soon will request congress to enact two other measures of immediate urgency—the proposals believed in democratic ranks at the capitol to be power to reduce government costs, including veterans funds; and to provide $500,000,000 or so for public projects to spur employment.

Senator Glass in the senate and Representative Byrns in the house sponsored the banking bill, aiming it possible to get it to the white house by tonight. This it was believed, would enable bank reopenings tomorrow.

Among the crowds who filled the congressional galleries was the wife of the president. In the house, too, numerous friends of Representative Rainey of Illinois gathered to watch his formal election as speaker to succeed Vice President Garner.

Quick Action On Bills Expected
WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—Speaker-Designate Rainey told newspapermen today the administration banking bill authorizing a new issuance of treasury currency on the basis of government bonds, would be brought up and passed in the house immediately after President Roosevelt's message was read.

Preparation for similar speed was made in the senate. Leaders having much to do with putting the legislation through were busy early this morning studying confidential drafts.

Senator Glass (D) was joined early at his office by Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee, to go over the bill together in anticipation of its enactment into law before tonight. Their copies bore the mark "sacredly confidential."

Talking with newsmen, Mr. Glass said the bill would be introduced, and government bonds only would be the security for currency.

"Any individual, bank or corporation would have the right to tender government bonds to the treasury and take away currency."

"The currency would be a new issue entirely. The extent of the issue would be controlled by the treasury. The maximum that the issue could reach would be $11,000,000,000 but it will not go that high."

Will Not Add to Debt
He said the plan would not add to the government's debt.

The banking bill was nine printed pages long. Details were withheld for the time being.

Only 50 copies of the proposal were understood to have been printed for the president. Two were given to the president, two each to Senator Glass and Representative Steagall, one to the attorney general, Homer S. Cummings and the remainder to treasury experts.

At the white house as he put last minute touches on his message, President Roosevelt conferred with Eugene M. W. governor of the federal reserve board.

From house leaders at the capitol, meanwhile came added hints of what it would contain.

Persons in a position to know said a $500,000,000 public works program including the development of Muscle Shoals and the Columbia basin project was to be recommended.

Emergency Program
Word from the white house, they said, was that the emergency program would be divided into two parts. The first part would broad powers over the banking situation; giving him added powers to reduce expenditures and the beginning of a board of public works, undertaking to restore employment.

The house leaders said that only the broad lines of the president's public works plan had been sketched to them but they expected it would be the subject of a bill soon to be introduced.

Gore also introduced a resolution reviving war time powers given to the president to permit him to act as to strengthen the banking structure and prevent runs.

Authority for the president only to make public reconstruction corporation loans to banks and trust companies also was sought in a concurrent resolution introduced by Gore.

In the house, it required almost 30 minutes for the reading of the bill. Forty minutes of debate thereupon got underway, with the vote then slated to come somewhat after 4 p. m. E. S. T.

Plans Beer Tax Bill.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—Representative Cullen of New York, assistant democratic leader, announced today he would introduce a bill to legalize and tax 3.2 per cent beer which died in the senate last session.

The New Yorker is a member of the ways and means committee which handled the beer tax provision last session by Chairman Collier.

It would have legalized beer of 3.2 per cent alcohol content by weight and taxed it at $5 a barrel.

No Currency Debasement.
The currency expansion provision, informed authorities said, would not result in any debasement of currency whatever, nor would it operate through a reduction of the gold content of the dollar.

"It would not be printing press money in any sense," said one authority who would not allow use of his name, explaining.

"It would be controlled expansion, the currency to be secured by federal or other sound obligations—really sound securities—and would be provided for through an expansion of the machinery set up in the Glass-Steagall bill passed at the last session."

"We did the same thing to some extent during the war. And, in normal times, the currency is automatically expanded by the federal reserve system to meet the demands of commercial paper, against which ordinary federal reserve currency is issued."

The Glass-Steagall bill provided a method by which banks could expand the currency by issuing paper money against federal obligations.

Senate Recessed
Once the president's message had been read by clerks in senate and house and opening formalities were disposed, the senate recessed until late afternoon while the banking committee considered the new legislation. The house, however, made ready for immediate consideration.

Representative Byrns of Tennessee, democratic floor leader, said if this bill is not passed today, no one can tell what will happen tomorrow.

The house unanimously agreed to vote within 40 minutes, bringing a vote about 4 p. m. E. S. T.

Representative Snell of New York, the republican leader, said "I am going to support the president."

Byrns said President Roosevelt wanted the bill to become law tonight so that all "sound banks" could open tomorrow.

No Amendments
Chairman Steagall of the banking committee explained the reason for the procedure. He followed no amendments could be offered to the measure.

In the senate, Senator Gore (D, Okla.) introduced a joint resolution providing for a form of guaranteeing bank deposits. Under it, the president and the comptroller of the currency would have joint power to secure deposits.

There was no mention of the bill that the administration was leaning toward a bank guaranty proposition.

Impeachment Trial Of Federal Judge Is Started In Senate
WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—The senate today formally opened the impeachment trial of Federal Judge Harold Louderback of California by swearing in Vice President Garner as presiding officer, and all senators as members of the tribunal.

ZANGARA
as he tried to kill the President. The second charged premeditated murder of Mr. Cermak.

Tom Armour of Miami was called as the first witness as Judge Thompson heard evidence, according to Florida law, before passing sentence on the assassin.

Zangara already had been sentenced to 80 years imprisonment on his plea of guilty to charges of attempting to murder the President and three of the persons his bullets struck.

Armour told his story of attempting to divert Zangara's aim when the latter fired his pistol five times in Bay Front Park.

The second witness, Miss Dixie Herlong, a court reporter, testified about taking Zangara's statement, delivered she said, "in a reasonably calm way" the night of the shooting.

Zangara said Miss Herlong testified, "that he attempted to kill President Roosevelt because he didn't like presidents and capitalists."

Sheriff Dan Hardie of Dade county, described the shooting and Zangara's capture and said the latter stated he wanted to kill President Roosevelt because he was "a member of the capitalist class."

The sheriff identified a newspaper clipping showing a picture of President Roosevelt. The clipping was taken from Zangara's pocket after the shooting.

"I believe he had no connection with any criminal gang in the shooting," the sheriff said.

Zangara Takes Stand.
Zangara himself took the stand after the state closed its case. "I'm 32," he testified, "born in Italy. I came here first September, ten years ago and live in New Jersey. I live here three four months—since July."

"I want to kill all capitalists. Because of capitalist people got no bread in this country—no money. I feel this way since I 14 years old."

"I go to work when I six years old. I work with farm people. 'x x x my father's in Italy. My mother died when I two years old. I got six sisters and a step-mother. We got same father—not same mother."

"I have stomach pains since I six years old. I not mad at my father but mad at capitalists. They got education."

"x x x I don't smoke, drink because it makes my stomach on fire."

"Are you mad at anybody now?"
"No, except I mad at capitalists all time—I not mad at jailers or at anybody here."

Don't Believe in God.
"x x x I don't believe in God."

Zangara described the actual shooting and said Mrs. W. F. Cross of Miami and not Armour, an earlier witness, knocked his arm and diverted his aim as he tried to shoot Mr. Roosevelt.

"I tried to shoot Mr. Roosevelt before, when he talk, but lots of people in my road and I can't do it."

Tennessee Project Introduced Senate
By Nebraska Solon
WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—A bill described as representing in general President Roosevelt's plans for a gigantic improvement project in the Tennessee valley was introduced today by Senator Norris (R., Neb.).

The measure calls for government operation of Muscle Shoals, extensive improvements on the Tennessee river and reforestation of submarginal land in that area.

Plans for such a project, intended to aid the employment situation and provide for a long-range public-works program, were outlined by Roosevelt several weeks ago at Warm Springs, Georgia.

The bill was referred to the agricultural committee.

We Thank You
Having leased the Gateway Service Station to the Cities Service Oil company for a period of years, we have transferred all stocks and accounts to the Exall Service Station, Third Avenue and Commerce Street, and wish to thank all our customers at The Gateway for their past patronage and invite them to visit us at the Exall, where we are well prepared to take care of their entire needs with a well equipped shop and battery station. The Exall will continue with Joe Garner as manager, assisted by Edgar Elliot and Bert Auerbach, head mechanics. We carry a full line of Quaker State, Amal and Simms Oils with our Simms Red Wing and Super Gasolines. We also handle Cooper guaranteed tires and Willard Batteries.

these things would prove the soundness of the money. Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, one of officialdom's outstanding advocates of "sound money," was among the conferees who approved this step.

The reactions of the congressional leaders to the bill Mr. Roosevelt presented was expressed by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, in these words:

"We have gone over a tentative draft of the bill and considered it with some care. It is the opinion of all in the conference that the bill will be passed through both houses tomorrow (Thursday) and will result in the opening of a large number of banks on Friday."

President Roosevelt's statement was:

"I have been in conference with members of the senate and house and have talked over with them a measure which has been carefully studied and prepared which will immediately relieve the situation and at once start banking operations throughout the entire country. I have been assured that there is every prospect of the immediate passage of this legislation on its introduction. I am gratified at the outlook."

As part of the program, Mr. Roosevelt wanted, and was told he would get, power to continue his control over gold; he was assured, too, that congress would give him the sweeping powers he wants to reduce expenditures to equal income. Payments on the public debt would be the next step.

Report Gold Withdrawal
Likewise federal reserve member banks were instructed to report the names of all persons who had withdrawn gold since February 1 but had failed to redeposit by March 13. This was calculated to loosen hoards and revived talk about publishing the names of hoarders.

All of these things are contemplated to meet the immediate emergency. When the emergency period has passed, the emergency program will be set aside for a long time plan the President is preparing.

This plan will be submitted to the congress within two or three weeks. Beyond indications that it will call for a more strict federal supervision of the banks, possibly leave closed some financial institutions that are unsound, and perhaps establish a system of guaranteeing deposits, there have been no intimations as to what it will contain.

Most of the President's friends say simply that he will call for a complete reorganization of the banking system that would prevent recurrences of the present difficulties.

"Are you sorry you shot the other people?" Twyman asked.

"I sorry I no shoot Roosevelt. 'Do you want to tell the court anything?'"

"No."

"Yes, I kill Mr. Roosevelt if he comes in this room now," Zangara said in response to a question from State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne.

"Would you kill Mr. Hoover?"
"No, he's not president now."

"I'd kill any king or president."

Zangara said he knew nothing about Mayor Cermak until after the shooting.

"But I want to kill Roosevelt," he repeated.

Zangara said he had planned to kill former President Hoover but had changed his mind when he learned here Roosevelt, who he later tried to kill was coming to Miami.

"No, no, I not crazy," he said in response to a question by Twyman.

Court was recessed until 2 p. m.

GOLD RUN
ment loomed large in American history.

Review Former Crisis.
The suspension of payments then had its genesis in the civil war itself. While the cause today may be traced indirectly and historically to the excesses growing out of an unbridled expansion period following the World War, the real and immediate cause, asserted banking executives, was the growing and unreasonable hysteria of the people at large, leading to active exporting of gold and the withdrawing it for hoarding.

Bankers had asserted repeatedly in the past year and a half that the country could stand any conceivable foreign run on our gold supply, and in fact it did stand the greatest gold run ever experienced by any country between September, 1931, and June, 1932.

But when Americans themselves actively began withdrawing gold in the past month measures had to be taken.

Nevertheless, the country still has some $4,300,000,000 of monetary gold within its borders, or more than a third of the world's total supply. This means, say banking authorities, that the fundamental problem today is to apply proper emotional sedatives to permit the normal functioning of gold once more.

More Different In Past.
But it was not so simple 70 years ago. When Lincoln entered the white house, there was only $1,700,000 in gold in the treasury. The banks had only $84,000,000 in gold, eloquent testimony that they would not be able to furnish enough specie to meet the war requirements. During the civil war, the government spent some $3,380,000,000, of which only $687,000,000 was collected through customs and taxes. The balance had to be raised by the issuance of bonds, notes and greenbacks.

The resulting public debt was so colossal that many public leaders doubted it could ever be met. This despair was undoubtedly one cause for the continued dizzy depreciation of the greenbacks. At their lowest point $40 in gold would buy $100 of them.

Eventually, but not without painful effort, they were redeemed at par. Senator Sherman, stalwart leader of the move for specie payments finally whipped his timid colleagues into line with the ringing cry: "The way to resume is to resume."

FIRST ELIMINATION ROUND PLAYED ON Y COURT SATURDAY

EVEN DOZEN TEAMS REMAIN FOR SECOND ROUND PLAY
ON NEXT SATURDAY

Twelve teams remain in the 1933 Navarro county girls basketball tournament after the completion of the first round of elimination Saturday at Y.M.C.A. court, and will pair off for the second round jousts next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Thirteen games were played Saturday.

First round results were: Currie 32, Pettys Chapel 13; Navarro 24, Bryan 16; Mt. Nebo 27, Emhouse 25; Rice 22, Barry 13; Corbett 20, Richard 14; Dawson 45, Cryer Creek 11; Purdon 10, Pickett 8 (One extra period); I.O.O.F. 26, Wilson 5; State Home 21, Pursley 9; Mildred 20, Powell 9; Frost 30, Blooming Grove 12; Union High 35, Purdon 10.

Next Saturday's second round schedule will be as follows: Currie vs. Navarro, 9 a.m.; Mt. Nebo vs. Rice, 10 a.m.; I.O.O.F. vs. State Home, 11 a.m.; Mildred vs. Frost, 1 p.m. The last game will end the second round of elimination. Two games are scheduled in the quarter-final tests: Corbett and Bazette play at 3 p.m.; and Dawson and Union High meet at 4 p.m. In the quarter final jousts, Corbett and Mt. Nebo-Rice game play at 2 p.m.; and the winners of the I.O.O.F., State Home, and Mildred-Frost games, play at 5 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

The semi-final, consolation, and final games are slated for next Monday afternoon and evening. In Saturday's games, Union High drew a bye, and Purdon played in two games. Purdon beat Pickett in the first event, but lost to Union High in the second one.

Some of the first round games were fast, and several were closely scored, one needing an extra period to determine its outcome. Purdon and Union High were tied at the end, and it took an extra period for Purdon to nose out the Pickett aggregation 10-8. Emhouse dropped a heart-breaker to Mt. Nebo, to tie up 2-25, in the tournament's second event.

A fast type of basketball was flashed, and several teams looked impressive. In that some of the stronger teams were playing weak opposition, and had little difficulty in running up high scores, it is impossible at the time to pick the favorites. Probably the fastest game was the Union High-Purdon game at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Other teams that looked impressive were Navarro, Dawson and Mt. Nebo.

Officials were Danny Lynch, Dallas, referee; Victor Gill, timer; and John Haslam, scorer.

FIRST ELIMINATION ROUND BASKETBALL GAMES ARE PLAYED

SLAY, NAVARRO AND DRANE WON GAMES IN AMATEUR INDEPENDENT CIRCUIT

The first round of elimination in the Central States Amateur Independent basketball tournament, representing three counties, was completed at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night with Slay, Navarro and Drane coming through with wins, to advance to the quarter-finals beginning at 6:30 to night.

Slay, augmented by several Bardwell all-star players, took out the Y-Independents 44-32; Corbett, Rice, Richard, Y-Aces, and Irene advanced by virtue of byes; Navarro and Drane coming through with wins, to advance to the quarter-finals beginning at 6:30 to night.

Wednesday night's schedule: Slay vs. Corbett, 8:30; Rice vs. Cryer Creek, 8:30; Navarro vs. Y-Aces 8:30; and Irene vs. Drane, 9:30. The semi-final games will be Thursday night, and the final game at 8:30, Friday night.

Slay's independent team, augmented by Steele and Hawkins, of Bardwell, put up the strongest bid so far in the tournament, and are picked as the most powerful squad in the upper bracket.

Navarro, runners-up in the 1933 boys' tourney, who were put out by Rural Shade, turned on their conquerors again, and beat them 24-16. Navarro had previously beat Rural Shade in a practice game at the Mildred gym. Drane advanced after a 32-26 win over Mildred.

Three players, a forward, a center, and a guard, of teams losing out in their first games, who are eligible for high scoring medals, given by the backers of the tournament to date include Trent, Rural Shade, forward, 19 points; Fred Burnett, Mildred center, 14 points; and Thomas, Mildred guard, 6 points. This computation is only incomplete, as Corbett, Rice, Richard, Y-Aces and Irene have not yet played.

Officials of last night's games were Paul Dresser, referee; Bill Hobbs, scorer and Lillard timer.

CURRIE, NAVARRO, MT. NEBO AND RICE WIN MORNING GAMES

Currie, Navarro, Mt. Nebo and Rice advanced to the second round of elimination in the 1933 Navarro county girls' basketball tournament on the Y. M. C. A. court Saturday morning by defeating Pettys Chapel, Bryan, Emhouse and Barry, respectively.

The only other game Saturday morning was the Pur

WALL STREET IS PONDERING CHANCE NEW ALDRICH PLAN

WOULD DIVORCE DEPOSIT AND INVESTMENT BUSINESS, CURB PRIVATE BANKERS

NEW YORK, March 9.—(AP)—Wall Street looked toward Washington today and pondered the legislative chances of Winthrop W. Aldrich's plan to change the set-up in the financial heart of the western world.

Aldrich, who is head of the Chase National Bank, the largest in the world, and is brother-in-law to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., proposed last night the most drastic program of banking reform that has ever emanated from Wall Street.

Not only would it divorce deposit and investment banking completely, but it would go far beyond even the Glass bill, which hitherto has met much disfavor in Wall Street. One effect would be to curb severely the activities and power of leading private banking firms, notably J. P. Morgan and Company.

It would forbid private bankers to take deposits or to be directors of banks or of depositors. Members of the Morgan firm are directors of some of the largest commercial banks of the country and hold important deposits, foreign and domestic.

There was a feeling in some parts of Wall Street that Congress would give close consideration to the Aldrich proposals. They adopted the spirit of the Glass bill, which advocates the separation of banks and security affiliates, and extended it further.

The program, designed to rid commercial banking of any "spirit of speculation," astonished many in Wall Street. It involves the inclusion of all commercial banks in the federal reserve system.

Would Restrict Investors. The New York Times pointed out the suggested program would curb the power of the large private investment banking firms in the respects:

First, by depriving these firms of the right to accept deposits, it would make it necessary for the private banks to obtain credit from the commercial banks in financing their security flotations.

Second, by doing away with the security affiliates of the commercial banks, the proposed regulations would take from the private banks outlets for the marketing of their securities which have in the past been of great importance.

Third, by removing all private bankers from their positions as directors of the commercial banks the changes would greatly reduce the prestige, influence and "inside information" available to the partners of investment houses at present.

Aldrich, a comparative newcomer to the banking field, made his proposals in connection with an announcement that the Chase National Bank would divorce its security affiliate, the Chase Securities Corporation. Similar steps are being taken by the National City Bank.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH STILL SERIOUS CONDITION

Seven persons received injuries Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock when the automobile in which they were riding were in a collision with a northbound Burlington and Rock Island Lines motor car at the intersection of the railroad tracks and East Seventh avenue.

Mrs. Eliza Kenner was reported still in a critical condition at the Navarro Clinic Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Tom Kenner was reported considerably improved Thursday.

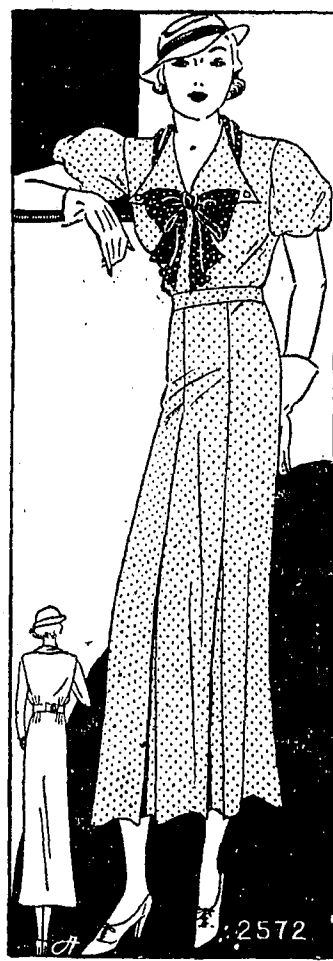

Miss Thyrta Kenner, Tommie Kenner, Hugh Allen Kenner, Jerry Kenner and John Wender Kenner were in the car and were injured, although none were seriously hurt.

The automobile in which the three women and four children were proceeding west on East Seventh avenue en route to Corsicana from their homes in Powell at the time of the accident. The car was badly damaged.

The injured persons were rushed to the clinic in a Sutherland-McCammon ambulance.

IRONCLAD CASE IS REPORTED AGAINST ALLEGED KIDNAPERS

FOUR UNDER ARREST AND TWO OTHERS SOUGHT IN BOETTCHER CASE

DENVER, March 9.—(AP)—The police case against six suspects in the Charles Boettcher, 2nd, kidnapping has become "ironclad," Chief of Police Albert T. Clark announced today.

The chief also predicted that officers on the trail of two of the six not yet in custody would effect their capture before the day had passed. The two sought are Verne Sankey and Gordon Elkhorn, believed by Clark to be fleeing into Canada. Two women and two men are in jail here.

Federal kidnapping charges have been filed against all six.

Information which caused Chief Clark to state he had an "ironclad" case, he said, came from Arthur Youngberg, alleged member of the kidnap band, captured at a ranch house allegedly owned by Sankey near Chamberlain, South Dakota. Police said Youngberg was the guard who watched the 21-year-old wealthy broker in the basement at the Sankey ranch during the 16-day period in which negotiations for $60,000 ransom were completed.

Search for Two Continued. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., March 9.—(AP)—In the foothills along the Missouri river north of here, officers of three states today watched for two suspects sought in the kidnapping of Charles Boettcher, II, of Denver.

The men wanted are Verne Sankey and Gordon Elkhorn, alias Gordon Best, and officers were at Sankey's ranch, 18 miles from here, and at various strategic positions in the desolate region surrounding the place.

A letter intercepted by authorities, addressed to Youngberg from Sapkey, said Sankey would return to the ranch Friday or Saturday.

The letter was mailed from Minneapolis and police of that city learned that two men believed to have been Sankey and Elkhorn had stayed in a Minneapolis hotel from Sunday until Tuesday when they checked out.

Two Pipelines And One Oil Well Were Dynamited

TYLER, March 9.—(AP)—Two pipelines and one well were dynamited near Kilgore about midnight but little damage was reported.

Two joints of the Atlas pipe line were destroyed as well as one of the Overton Refining company's line. The blast ignited oil flowing through the line and it was still burning today. The fire was too far away, however, from any building to do any damage. Several hundred barrels of oil were lost when a gate valve was blown off the Gulf No. 8 Spear well. Mary Van Winkle survey, in Gregg county. The railroad commission's night force reported that the well was brought in about 1 a.m.

Atlas' line was blasted at a point where it crosses a creek on a country club golf course.

Travis L. Golay of the railroad commission reported that no production complaints had been made against the Gulf well.

A gate valve of the Atlas company was blown off in the Lagrone survey three days ago.

Corsicanans Heard By Angus P. T. A. At Friday Sessions

The Angus Parent-Teacher association met in regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, March 3, in the school auditorium.

After our business session conducted by J. K. Brim, the president, Rev. P. Martin Baker of Corsicana made a most interesting talk on "Ethical Education."

Miss Suther of the State Department of Health, who makes her headquarters in Mexico, was also present and gave a talk on "The Cause and Prevention of Malaria."

There was a good attendance with three new members.

A social hour followed with refreshments being served by Misses J. K. Brim, L. H. Stewart, J. F. Jackson and Miss McConico.

In the evening a most interesting program was given at 7:30 under the direction of the P. T. A. to a packed auditorium. Mrs. Sidney Story of Corsicana gave a talk on "The Work of Parent Teacher Associations," which was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Steele of Corsicana, were also visitors.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

The Need of the Day.
I'm not one to shout and preach
But there's none so poor of purse
But can look about a little and discover some one worse.
And I've come to the conclusion that we all must bear in mind Wherever we may journey
there's a need of being kind.
In these days of stress and trial
there is no one fancy-free
Who can turn his back on trouble and pretend he doesn't see.
Want is everywhere about us, just ahead or just behind And it's everybody's duty to remember to be kind.

In the lavish days of plenty we could chuckle at the whim
Of the miser hard and selfish and just make a joke of him.
But today it isn't funny in the face of want and pain
To see misers hoarding dollars
they are fortunate to gain.
Help the one who's nearest to you; serve the need that's close at hand.
Share with those within your circle;
then if possible expand.
Do as much as you are able to relieve the woe you find.
These are days when God expects us to be thoughtful and be kind.

AGE AND APPEARANCE

So many visible effects of the passage of time are recorded in the appearance of the skin, that it is easy to understand why it has been said that man is no older than he looks. It is entirely understandable that appearance, in respect to age, is reflected in one's consciousness. He comes to feel older than he is and older than he looks.

Vigor and vitality are apt to be registered in the skin, and firmness and resilience are preserved with health. This does not prevent the gravings of care and of fret from appearing in the lines of the face, the total effect often providing compensation by the fact that the definite lines of character are strengthened.

No one is really complimented by the painter who works out the lines of the face or so tones them down that the heritage of the years in experience and reflection are lost to the individual in the effort to make him appear younger and "better looking." The visage of Lincoln appears to best advantage in those untouched photographs or painted portraits wherein are preserved each rugged line and obtrusive mole. Yet there is much that enters into the countenance of Lincoln which testifies to the needless abrasions of time upon texture in early years.
Science has been too long in learning that the disintegration of epidermis cells is the physiological cause for vanishing beauty. If these cells could be built up so as to preserve the appearance of health and defect skin aging, the benefit would be reaped by multitudes who are not interested in beauty lotions or face lifting.

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN!

WHAT! NO PANACEA?

John W. Davis, invited to become one of 250 "doctors" to diagnose our economic ills and prescribe a cure, declined the invitation, saying:

"As the depression is not due to any single cause, I am sure it cannot be cured by any single remedy. I have long since ceased to believe in governmental miracles or legislative cure-alls. To my mind the most helpful thing congress can do is to devote itself to the obvious things that lie close at hand, trusting the future for further guidance."

There goes another grandiose scheme. Had the one time candidate for president desired to me more candid he might have added that 250 "great men" will not get any farther toward a solution of the problem than 250 unknowns from the shops and offices of the country. There has already been enough of gabbling.

DEBTOR RELIEF.

While prosperity reigned there was constant agitation for tightening up of the bankruptcy laws to end the many fraudulent practices under them. With "bankruptcy rings" operating in all parts of the country and cases of "bankruptcy for profit" in virtually every community, the bankruptcy laws had become a joke.

Nothing was done about closing the loopholes in the laws, but now that bankruptcy and receiverships threaten many railroads and other corporations and countless thousands of farm and home owners congress
proceeds to loosen the laws.

When the bankruptcy reform bill came before the lower branch of congress that body recognized the emergency and passed the bill under suspension of the rules. That left it up to the senate to discover the defects, if any.

Only the best motives are behind this reform. Anything that can prevent wholesale bankruptcies and receiverships under present economic conditions is to be used to the fullest advantage, even though it may lead to abuses. Yet it would be a mistake for congress and the president to alter this legislation without first reviewing the entire question and anticipating every possible consequence. Haste might result in more harm than good.

It's awful to think how many Americans lose their money at those wicked European gambling places when they might go to Hot Springs or Reno.

The radio audience is protected from harmful things, so evidently the powers feel that imbecility does not hurt anybody.

It is sad for one not to think well of his birthplace, but it is tragic when one's birthplace doesn't think well of him.

Nothing would create more world-wide elation than the news that the meek boy had thoroughly trounced
the bully in the Orient.

Quite a crisis arose the other day in French political circles: It was accidentally discovered there was no crisis.

Established independent operator and the taxpayer.

Ninety per cent of the farmers want the farm board abolished.

Can it be that the 14 outraged organizations had something to do with saddling the farm board on the country?

SHIP MAIL CONTRACTS

Some months ago the air-mail carriers were forced to take a reduction of rates for transporting the mails. Now it is proposed that the ocean carriers—the American merchant marine—accept a 50 per cent cut to save the government $10,000,000 a year.
Senator McKellar has introduced an amendment to the postoffice-treasury appropriation bill providing for suits to test the validity of the mail contracts if the carriers and postoffice cannot successfully negotiate a rate cut.

There are 44 outstanding mail contracts and a number of small ones with steamship companies. These contracts and government loans at low interest rates have promoted the growth of the American merchant marine from 17 lines in 1914 to 600 ships now flying the American flag on 70 regular lines.

Congress will not jeopardize this great industry and traffic by hasty action. It will first ascertain whether the contracts in force are fair and valid and whether there is any basis for the claim that it costs more to operate American ships than foreign vessels.

There is need for economy in every branch of the federal government, especially in the postoffice department, and a $10,000,000 saving is worth effecting. But would it be economy to destroy that which has cost the country many millions to build? Steamship companies, like all other business, are having a struggle to keep their heads above water and the loss of half the mail revenue might sink the whole merchant marine.

Method of getting a Government loan: First prove that you can't get it anywhere else; then show collateral that would enable you to get it anywhere.

We are a peace-loving nation. It is true the words of the national anthem are warlike but 91 per cent of the population can not recall them.

What has become of the old-time sister-in-law of the dropped around for dinner and at least pitched in and wiped the dishes.

A politician with his ear to the ground is in a well position for a kick from the voters.

Lot's of folks who don't believe in ghosts are afraid of them. That includes dry politicians.

There still seems to be enough money to maintain the highway congestion.

HOUSE PASSES BILL SUSPEND SALES FOR ONE YEAR TUESDAY

LEVY WOULD BE PLACED ON GROSS PREMIUMS TEXAS INSURANCE COMPANIES

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—A bill to suspend for one year the foreclosure of liens, mortgages, executions and orders of sale on real estate was passed today by the Texas house of representatives, 113 to 11.

There was virtually no discussion on the proposal, although the bill was stoutly opposed several days ago when it was engrossed.
The bill was introduced by Representative Joe Greathouse of Ft.
Worth.

The legislature last week passed a bill to suspend foreclosure and forced sale of real estate for one month. The bill was signed immediately by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and prevented the forced sale today of properties that had been advertised for sale.
The one month suspension was ordered as a result of the financial emergency and the bank moratorium.

The house passed finally the biennial eleemosynary appropriation bill after whittling $17,700 from the already drastic reductions made by the appropriations committee. As passed the bill carried an appropriation for the biennium of $7,876,552 of which $3,872,376 was for the first year and $4,004,276 for the second year.

An appropriation of $90,000 was inserted for construction of a ward building at the Wichita Falls state hospital. The appropriation was transferred from the Austin State hospital to the Wichita Falls institution.
Salaries of all superintendents of eleemosynary institutions except one, were reduced to $2,100.
The house turned down an amendment to reduce the salary of the superintendent of the state tuberculosis sanatorium from $2,400 to $2,100.

All of the $17,700 reduction was effected by abolishing the position of controller of the state.

A rider was placed on the bill prohibiting the controller from paying more than two salaries to members of a single family.

Senate Passed Bill.
AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—The Texas senate passed a bill today to give relief to insurance companies during the moratorium emergency but the proposal was not approved by a majority sufficient to put it into immediate effect.

The vote was 20 to 8 with one pair. Senator Jos. M. Moore of Greenville, author, planned to obtain a second vote on the bill when another supporter of the proposal is present. The bill has not yet been considered by the house.
The bill would authorize the state insurance commission, with the approval of the governor to limit cash withdrawals from insurance companies on policy surrenders and loans.

The bill also would empower the insurance commissioner to extend the period of grace for payment of insurance premiums until the policyholders are able to get their money out of the banks.

AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—A bill was introduced in the Texas house of representatives today to extend the time for foreclosure and sale of real and personal property
under deeds of trusts, executions, orders of sale and mortgages for 110 days for March 15.

The legislature had passed and Governor Miriam A. Ferguson had signed a bill to suspend foreclosures until April 4.

A bill to levy a graduated tax on the gross premiums of Texas life insurance companies was introduced. The maximum premium would be three per cent, but would be reduced to two per cent if the companies invested 75 per cent of their reserves in loans on Texas real estate.

The house ordered printed on minority report a proposed constitutional amendment to exempt $3,000 of the assessed value of homesteads from a valorem taxation of all kinds.

The house adopted a resolution memorializing congress to immediately pass a bill whereby the emerment would take over and refinance farm mortgages.

A resolution to require all lobbyists appearing before legislative committees to file an affidavit stating their employment and their interest in pending legislation was referred to the committee on state affairs.

Port Arthur Jail Bill.
AUSTIN, March 7.—(AP)—The house committee on counties yesterday voted a favorable report to a bill to allow construction of a jail and office building at Port Arthur.

TWO ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH KIDNAPING CASE

TWO OTHERS EXPECTED BE ARRESTED IN BOETTCHER ABDUCTION AND RANSOM

DENVER, Colo., March 7.
(AP)—Two alleged members of the gang that kidnaped Charles Boettcher, 2nd, wealthy young broker for $60,000 ransom, are behind jail bars, Chief of Police A.
T. Clark announced today.
And two other men who helped stage the abduction are known and their arrests are expected soon. Chief Clark said the kidnapers' rendezvous where Boettcher was held more than two weeks had been located by authorities in the hills of South Dakota near Mitchell, S. D.

The house is in an extremely isolated section many miles from the main highway, Clark said, about 15 or 18 hours drive by automobile from Denver.

He declined to give the exact location of the hideout because he said it might hinder the authorities in their search for the other two kidnapers.

The identity of the two men was closely guarded. One of them had been in jail in Denver since Saturday night. The other was arrested when officers swooped down on the hideout in South Dakota Monday morning.

Two women and a man said they were friends of the alleged kidnapers were also in the Denver jail for investigation in connection with the abduction. The names were not made public. Their connection with the case was not explained. Police believe the man arrested here wrote all the notes sent to the Boettcher family by the kidnapers during the negotiations for the ransom.

Notes Written in Denver.
He was said to have written them in a room which he rented in one of the large downtown office buildings. All were typewritten. The typewriter on which they were written is in possession of the police. The man taken into custody in South Dakota is believed to be the man who guarded Boettcher while he was held in a basement room with adhesive tape over his eyes.

As the kidnapers brought the brokers to Denver to release him last Wednesday, he managed to slip the blindfold off his eyes two or three times long enough to see the buildings and other things along the way.

While going through or near Torrington, Wyo., he saw the tower of the town on the side of a building. This one bit of information went a long way toward helping the police to locate the hideout. Chief Clark and Captain Detectives W. J. Armstrong felt sure from what Boettcher was able to describe to them that he had been held in a building in Western Nebraska, Northern Colorado or the southern part of South Dakota.

Chief Clark announced that C.
W. Pierce was under arrest in Denver as the alleged writer of the extortion letters. He said Arthur "Doc" Barker was under arrest at Chamberlain, S. D.

Police said that $1,400 had been found in the possession of the life of one of the suspects held.
They said they believed this money was part of the ransom paid for the release of Boettcher.

A suspect in the case, arrested at Chamberlain, S. D., cut his throat and wrists with a safety razor and failed to climb. The man refused to give officers any information last night, but was said to have admitted this morning he was involved in the kidnapping plot.

APPLICATIONS FOR CROP LOANS FLOOD CHAMBER COMMERCE

Applications for farm loans and crop production loans have flooded the office of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce. Several dozens of officials said Tuesday morning, and have grown heavier perhaps under the influence of the banking holiday.

Scores of applications for crop production loans are reported from various points over the county.
Final approval was given on loan totaling $6,000 at meeting of the county committee over the Regional Agricultural Corporation Monday afternoon and the applications forwarded to the Fort Worth office for final action. The Navarro county group has been highly complimented recently by the managers of the Fort Worth office for the care with which the loan applications have been sent in, and in only one instance has a minor revision been made in the amount recommended.

Applications totaling $15,174
have been approved by the county committee for the attention of the inspectors.

TWO YOUTHS ENTER PLEAS OF GUILTY BURGLARY CHARGE

Leonard Hurley and Cliff Flanagan, 17-year-old youths, entered pleas of guilty to indictment for burglary before Judge H.
Hins Scarborough Tuesday afternoon. They were charged with stealing a three-year-old suspended sentence.

The youths were arrested
Thursday morning by city officers in connection with the burglarizing of the office of Edgar King on North Commerce street and were indicted by the Navarro county grand jury Friday.

The youths were surprised in the cafe by a passerby, and were arrested a short time later.

TREASURY OFFICIALS ACTIVELY ENGAGED IN MAKING BANK PLANS

FEDERAL POWER EXPECTED BE EXERCISED OVER ALL BANKING INSTITUTIONS

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—The time to be covered in the report of withdrawals by gold hoarders was broadened by the Federal Reserve today to extend to the past two years.

While Treasury officials were working out the plans that will be followed after the passage of the emergency measure sent by President Roosevelt to Congress today, word went from the federal reserve to its member banks calling for the report.

The time originally designated to be covered in the report of gold withdrawals had been from February 1 to March 13. The use to be made of the names had not been disclosed but the compilation would put officials in position either to take them or take more drastic action. A tax on withdrawals has been suggested by some.

Another matter put before the treasury was the manner in which foreign diplomats may obtain funds for the conduct of their embassies. A request to see what could be done about it was transmitted by the state department to the treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—Hedged about by virtual wartime restrictions which kept out all callers except those actively engaged developing the plans they have under way, treasury officials went ahead today with the work of charting a course for the nation's banks until the special legislation enacted by Congress can go into effect.

With the convening of Congress into special session, Secretary Woodin continued his conferences with financial and monetary leaders, maintaining throughout his close contact with President Roosevelt.

Despite Secretary Woodin's order that all inquiries regarding the new banking regulations be directed to the regional federal reserve banks, questions continued to pour into the treasury.

In the rush, there was little time for officials to reply to the numerous inquiries that streamed in upon them from newspaper correspondents and through telegrams. Most of these had to await the regular daily round with Secretary Woodin, set for 11 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Whether banks would be permitted to re-open tomorrow depended largely upon President Roosevelt's recommendations and no official would comment on the pending action.

No word was forthcoming on how state and federal banking regulations would be co-ordinated but many assumed that Congress would give federal authorities full power over state as well as federal reserve and national banks.

Want List Gold Hoarded.

The first change that came from the department today was the issuance by the Federal reserve of instructions to member banks to compile lists of all those who have withdrawn gold from member banks during the last two years.

This was a broadening of the instructions issued yesterday for reserve banks to send in the names of all persons who had withdrawn large amounts of gold since February 1.

The banks of the country have kept a record of all persons withdrawing sizeable sums of gold during the last two years.

Just what action will be taken when the list is sent to Washington has not been announced but it was pointed out that officials would be in a position to make public the names of persons they suspect of hoarding or secretly exporting large amounts of gold.

Such a list if compiled would contain the names of all persons who withdrew gold 18 months ago when European withdrawals took $750,000,000 of gold out of the country in about a month.

Much Gold Withdrawn.

It also would show where more than $200,000,000 in gold went during the month of February in addition to the amount that was earmarked for export to foreign countries.

Another worry came to the treasury from the state department.

In response to requests from foreign diplomats for means of enabling them to get needed funds from banks during the temporary holiday the state department disclosed that it had asked the treasury what could be done.

Undersecretary Phillips said the matter had been brought to the attention of the state department by diplomatic missions in Washington and added the state department's action was simply one of courtesy.

The funds were reported needed by certain of the embassies and legations for running their expensive establishments.

Lake Fishermen Are Saved From Death in Waters

ASHLAND, Wis., March 9.—(P)—Rescued from drifting ice floes headed toward the open waters of Lake Superior more than a score of fishermen of the Madeline Island community, north of here, resumed the routine of their daily lives, unmindful of their escape.

Two of them, George La Roque and Ollie Sandstrom, were blown for 50 miles across the bay on a large block of ice in a blinding snow storm yesterday. They were saved and landed at Little Girl Point, Mich.

Three dogs, stranded on the huge ice floe with La Roque and Sandstrom, perished when they slipped through large cracks opened by the pounding waves.

The breakup of the ice extended along nearly 100 miles of shoreline, sending residents of a dozen communities to the shore on the lookout for unfortunate fishermen who might have been carried out into the lake.

PROVINCE OF JEHOI BEING TAKEN OVER BY MANCHUKUOANS

VILLAGES AND CITIES DESERTED BY CHINESE OFFICIALS BEING MANNED AGAIN

(By The Associated Press.)

Following close on the heels of Japanese and Manchukuo troops who have swarmed over Jehoi province the last fifteen days, Manchukuoan rule is now being established in the territory.

Manchukuoan officials have taken over control of villages and cities deserted by the Chinese in the face of the campaign which has carried the invaders as far as the great wall separating the province from China proper.

Immediately following the fighting forces came "publicity wagons" and propagandist speakers who extolled the advantages of Manchukuo. The Manchukuoan officials who took over the government of the cities and villages were not far behind.

Over a stretch of 250 miles there were many deserted villages, with 85 per cent of the buildings unoccupied and with only aged persons and children thereabouts.

Meanwhile, reports from Chinchow, Manchuria, told of an unsuccessful attempt by reinforced Chinese troops to retake Kupeikow pass through the great wall. They were beaten back by the infantry brigade of Major General Tadashi Kawahara.

An engagement south of Wukufu, the Tokyo dispatches said, resulted in 25 Japanese killed and 39 wounded. The skirmish occurred during "popping up" operations of Major General Heijiro Hattori.

It Takes More Than Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, or Laxative Pills to Arouse a Sluggish Liver

They Give Only Temporary Relief From Constipation and Biliousness, Because They Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile

Bile is nature's own laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, putrefaction, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes torpid or sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills will remove the cause of this condition and purify your entire system in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action that there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative at all.

Five years ago it was generally believed that calomel and laxative drugs stimulated the liver, but modern science has proved that calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils and other laxatives have no effect whatever on the liver.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills act directly on the liver because they contain two amazing substances which highest medical authorities agree are the only effective stimulants to the bile-producing activity of the liver known to modern science. These substances stimulate and invigorate the liver to cleanse and purify itself through increasing its production of bile. This fresh bile immediately starts to work neutralizing acids and poisons, stopping fermentation and decay, cleansing and purifying the bowels and sweeping out accumulated poisons.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two known substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent
Forbes

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (3x5) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated pamphlet, "BEAUTY," ten cents in stamps with fully s.a.s.e. must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes to Editor of this paper.

Eyes and Makeup.

Miss Forbes gives directions today for a beauty-making routine in treating the eyes. A little daily care, plus the makeup hints, will improve the beauty of any woman's eyes.

Perhaps I should say, all about eye makeup. For today I want to tell you the best and simplest way of making up your eyes, increasing their beauty, yet doing them no harm at all.

First, about resting the eyes. Since tired eyes or eyes with lines of fatigue around them, do not benefit by makeup. A good eye-wash helps, put in with a dropper or used in an eyecup. If you economize, there are few things better than warm water and boracic acid—the druggist sells this simple solution all ready to use. Then to put over the eyes while you lie and relax, you can get herb pads, wrung from hot water, to rest and soothe the nerves. Or you can wring out a cloth from plain hot water, and use this. The penetrating heat which helps most.

Also, at night, use a massage cream or a special oil. Let it remain on the skin all night. And if you are nearing the dangerous forties, or if the eye wrinkles look deep, spread a film of the oil on the upper lid during the day. The latest fashion says eyelids—so you can have a beauty treatment almost 24 hours long, and forever avoid old looking eyes.

Now for makeup. The color tones on the upper lid, never under the eyes. The upper eyelashes are darkened, never the lower. Remember these two rules. Choose from among the hundreds of colors, the one best for your type. Black or brown makes the eyes seem to sink into the head (have you popping eyes?). Other shades bring out the eyes, green and golden yellow are good for brown eyes, green for every shade of eye, blue only for blue or gray eyes. The color is almost invisible near the nose, it deepens, as it spreads out, and it extends, faintly, half an inch beyond the edge of each eye. The new, iridescent shades are amusing to try.

Eye-lash mascaras should be black, and lightly brushed on.

Florence G.—Trim the split nail down until you either get past the split, or down to finger, and if the split goes down farther than this cover that part of the nail with a piece of court plaster. This will hold the two sides of the nail in place so there will be no further splitting, and the nail will push forward as it grows out, so that you can soon get all of the broken nail pared off. Do not have a manicure at this particular nail. Rub plenty of oil into each nail.

T. L. M.—You can get books on diet that will give you calorie measurements, and you may also have a calorie chart that will give you the value of most foods, you are apt to use in an all-around diet. If you wish books on this subject, make an inquiry at any book dealer, but if you wish the chart, you may have it without any cost, as I shall be glad to send it to you, if you include a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the mailing.

Heavy Penalties For Hoarding Is Being Discussed

WASHINGTON, March 7.—(AP)—A heavy tax or severe penalties to prevent hoarding are being considered by Democratic leaders in drawing up an emergency banking program but a final decision has not been reached.

While declining to be quoted, one member of congress frequently concerned with banking legislation, said in response to inquiries this afternoon that whether the proposed penalties would apply to gold and gold certificates or to all forms of currency was among the points being discussed.

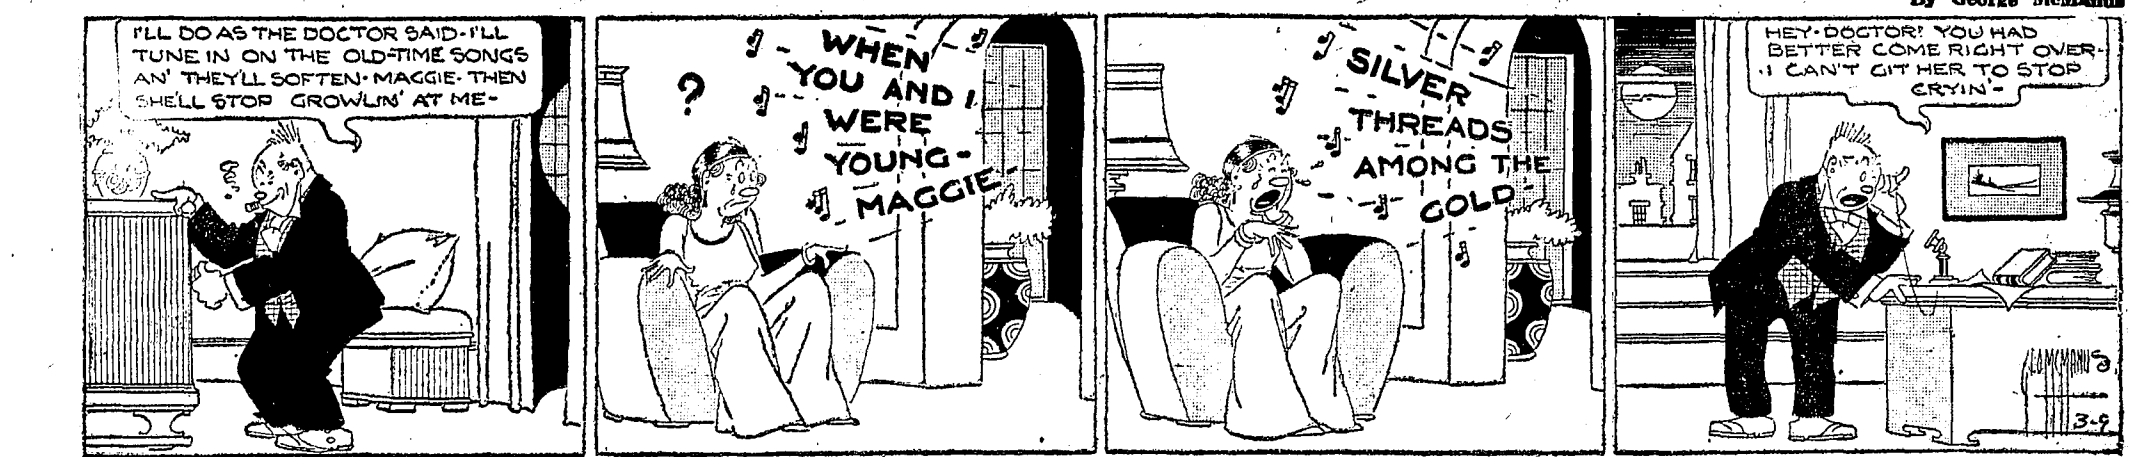

It was expected that such penalties, if included in the program, would be aimed primarily at those who had put large quantities of gold or money in safety deposit boxes or kept it at home but would not apply to those who were keeping at home money for operating expenses from salary checks and the like.

Department of Justice officials, asked what they would do if Congress by law set up penalties for hoarding, said "we would prevent violations of the law after it was enacted."

They added that the district attorneys and federal agents in the various localities would have the primary responsibility of determining violators under such conditions as congress might stipulate.

"CZAR" IDEA HAS REACHED TO WALL STREET IN CRISIS WOULD FOLLOW EXAMPLE IN MOVIE AND BASE-BALL INDUSTRIES

NEW YORK, March 9.—(P)—The "czar" idea is spreading to all places—Wall Street.

Long pro baseball decided to get itself a czar in the person of Kenesaw Mountain Landis. The movies have one in Will Hays, whose salary is mighty in the czar matters.

Now the street that is known the globe over as the main lane of the big money world is hearing talk of a dictator.

He would be referred to as the "czar" of the money world. The word "czar" is not officially used. Bankers shy from it in this connection. It is believed, however, that a central office to pass on foreign exchange matters would necessarily involve the granting of wide powers.

The proposal was under wide discussion yesterday. It was pointed out that a program of such a character would be in line with measures adopted during the world war. At that time Fred I. Kent, vice president of the Bankers Trust Company, was lent by his institution to "czar" as a foreign exchange.

The project has not gone so far as naming any specific individual. It is understood, however, that headquarters for such a change would probably be in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and that the bank might conceivably take over the direction of such functions.

CONTROL OF HITLER OVER GERMAN FREE STATES TIGHTENS

BERLIN, March 9.—(P)—Chancellor Hitler's control over the free states and republics of the German federation was tightened today as his minister of interior, Dr. Wilhelm Frick, appointed national socialist federal police commissioners for Westphalia, Rhine, Saxony and Schleswig-Holstein.

Bavaria is now the only state retaining authority over its own police. Pre-election warnings of the federal government to the Bavarian police would take charge in Bavaria brought responses from Bavarian populists that any such move would be resisted by force. Since Hitler's victory at the polls Sunday, however, plans were announced to include Nazi representation in the Bavarian coalition government.

Thousands of Berlin school children celebrating "The Nation's Awakening," March through the streets yesterday singing national socialist songs, assailing Jews and communists. Many of the demonstrators were excused from classes for the event.

Austria-March 9.—(P)—The Austrian dictatorship was viewed today following as bringing the day of German union closer to hand.

The socialist party voiced a threat of civil war while the national socialist scoffed at any attempt by Dictator-Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss to suppress their demonstrations.

Whatever may be the motive of the government, Alfred Frauenfeld, the Nazi leader, declared its action in establishing a dictatorship was certain to help the Hitlerites.

Auto Factories Paying Men In Cash Thursday

DETROIT, March 9.—(P)—Hundreds of thousands of dollars in currency was placed in circulation today by Detroit's automobile factories, through 100 per cent cash payments of weekly wages to employees.

Although the companies did not disclose the amounts of payrolls, most of the larger ones reported cash payments in full of wages for the past week.

The Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp., announced they were continuing to meet payrolls in full with currency. The Hudson Motor Car Co. said the employees were paid today in full, the money required for the week's payroll, totaling approximately a quarter of a million dollars, having been placed in advance of the national banking crisis.

All motor companies reported they were continuing production, although some operators were on a restricted basis.

Attempt Rob Bonard Bank But Fire Frustrates

LEONARD, March 9.—(P)—Five unmasked men attempted to break into the vault of the Bonard National bank with an acetylene torch early today when they were frustrated by a nearby fire before they completed their work.

J. H. Sanders, a nightwatchman, and J. D. Hyde were captured by the fire department and placed in a back room of the bank while the men drilled.

J. M. Blackwell, city marshal, who was returning from the residence fire, noticed a window at the side of the building broken out and stopped to investigate, freeing the men and notifying officers.

TEXT OF BILL

is hereby amended to read as follows:

Special Powers.—(b) During the emergency declared by the president, the president may, through any agency that he may designate, or otherwise investigate, regulate, or prohibit, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, by means of licenses or otherwise, any transactions in foreign exchange, transfers of credit, or other matters, institutions as defined by the president, and export, hoarding, melting, or earmarking of gold or silver coin or bullion, or currency, or any other place subject to the jurisdiction thereof; and the president may require any person engaged in any such transaction to furnish under oath, complete information relative thereto, including the production of any books of account, contracts, letters, or papers, and to submit therewith to the custody or control of such transaction is completed. Whoever wilfully violates this provision shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both; and any officer, director, or agent of any corporation who knowingly participates in such violation shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. As used in this subdivision the term "person" means an individual, partnership, association, or corporation.

Amendment.—Section 3. Section II of the Federal Reserve Act is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection: (n) Whenever in the judgment of the secretary of treasury such action is necessary to protect the gold currency system of the United States, the Federal Reserve Board, in its discretion and upon the affirmative vote of a majority of its members, may require any and all member banks to pay and deliver to the treasurer of the United States any or all gold coin, gold bullion, or gold certificates, the Federal Reserve Bank shall, at the option of the member bank, pay therefor the equivalent amount in any other form of coin or currency coined or issued under the laws of the United States or give the member bank immediate credit for the amount of such payment. The secretary of the treasury shall pay all costs of the transportation of such gold bullion, gold certificates, coin, or currency, including the cost of insurance, and such other incidental costs as may be reasonably necessary. Any member bank failing to comply with any requirement of the secretary of treasury under this subsection shall be subject to a penalty equal to twice the value of the gold or gold certificates in respect of which such failure occurred, and such penalty may be collected by the secretary of the treasury by suit or otherwise.

Limitation Feature.—Section 4. In order to provide for the safer and more effective operation of the national banking system and the federal reserve system, to prevent the circulation of currency provided for by the system, and to relieve interstate commerce of the burden of restrictions resulting from the receipt of an unsound or unsafe basis of deposits subject to withdrawal by check, during such emergency period as the President may declare, the Secretary of the Treasury may, by proclamation, prescribe, no member bank of the Federal Reserve system shall transact any banking business except to such extent and subject to such regulations, limitations, and restrictions as may be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury, with the approval of the President.

Any individual, partnership, corporation, or other entity, or any director, officer or employee thereof, violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both, in addition to such fine, he may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding ten years. Each day that any such violation continues shall be deemed a separate offense.

Title II.—Section 201. This title may be cited as the "Bank Conservation Act."

Section 202. As used in this title the term "bank" means (1) any National Banking Association or any Bank or Trust company located in the District of Columbia and operating under the supervision of the comptroller of the currency; and (2) any other institution means any state, territory or possession of the United States, and the Canal Zone.

Section 203. Whenever he shall deem it necessary to conserve the assets of any bank for the benefit of the depositors and other creditors thereof, the comptroller of the currency may appoint a conservator for such bank and require of him such bond and security as the comptroller of the currency deems proper. The conservator, under the direction of the comptroller, shall take possession of the books, records, and assets of every description of such bank, and take such action as may be necessary to conserve the assets of such bank pending further disposition of its business as provided by law. Such conservator shall have all the rights, powers and privileges now possessed by a receiver of a failed bank, and shall be subject to the obligations and penalties, not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, which receivers are now or may hereafter become subject to.

During the time that such conservator remains in possession of such bank, the rights of all parties to such bank shall be subject to the other provisions of this title, but the same as if a receiver had been appointed therefor. All expenses of any such conservator shall be paid out of the assets of such bank and shall be a lien thereon which shall be prior to any other lien provided by this act or otherwise. The conservator shall not be liable for any amount not greater than that paid the employees of the federal government for similar services.

Section 204. The comptroller of the currency shall cause to be made such examinations of the affairs of such bank as shall be necessary to inform him as to the financial condition of such bank, and the examiner shall make a report thereon to the comptroller of the currency at the earliest practicable date.

Section 205. If the comptroller of the currency becomes satisfied that it may safely be done and that it would be in the public interest he may, in his discretion, terminate the conservatorship and permit such bank to resume the transaction of its business subject to such terms, conditions, restrictions and limitations as he may prescribe.

On Ratable Basis.—Section 206. While such bank is in the hands of a conservator appointed by the comptroller of the currency, the comptroller may require the conservator to set aside and make available for withdrawal by depositors and payment to other creditors, on a ratable basis, such amounts as in the opinion of the comptroller may safely be used for this purpose; and the conservator, in his discretion, permit the conservator to receive deposits, but deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator shall be held by the conservator as to payment or withdrawal, and such deposits shall be segregated and shall not be used to liquidate any indebtedness of such bank existing at the time that conservator was appointed.

Such deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator shall be kept on hand and shall be subject to the obligations of the United States, or deposited with a federal reserve bank the federal reserve bank are hereby authorized to receive deposits for such purpose, or for the purpose of receiving deposits from state banks under similar conditions.

Reorganization Must Be Fair.—Section 207. In any reorganization of any national banking association under a plan of a kind approved by the existing law, the plan shall be subject to the approval of the conservator, as the case may be (a) of depositors and other creditors or (b) of stockholders or (c) of both depositors and stockholders, as the case may be. Such reorganization shall become effective only (1) when the conservator of the currency shall be satisfied that the plan of reorganization is fair and equitable to all depositors, other creditors and stockholders and is in the public interest and shall have approved the plan subject to such conditions, restrictions and limitations as he may prescribe and (2) when, after reasonable notice of such reorganization has been given, the same may require (A) a deposit of the assets of the bank, as shown by the books of the bank, representing at least 75 per cent in amount of its total deposits and other liabilities as shown by the books of the bank, and (B) a deposit of the assets of the bank, as shown by the books of the bank, representing at least 75 per cent in amount of its total deposits and other liabilities as shown by the books of the bank, and (C) a deposit of the assets of the bank, as shown by the books of the bank, representing at least 75 per cent in amount of its total deposits and other liabilities as shown by the books of the bank.

Records and Assets.—When such reorganization becomes effective, all books, records and assets of the National Banking Association shall be subject to the provisions of the plan and the affairs of the National Banking Association shall be conducted under the supervision of the conservator, and the conservator shall have the right to examine and audit the books, records and assets of the National Banking Association, and the conservator shall have the right to examine and audit the books, records and assets of the National Banking Association, and the conservator shall have the right to examine and audit the books, records and assets of the National Banking Association.

Cumulative Dividends.—Section 301. The holders of such preferred stock shall be entitled to cumulative dividends at a rate not exceeding 6 per centum per annum, but shall not be held individually responsible for such dividends for any debts, contracts, or engagements of such association and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impaired stock to full value.

Reserve Act Amended.—Section 403. Section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph: "Subject to such limitations, restrictions and regulations as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe, the Federal Reserve Bank may make advances to any individual, partnership or corporation on the promissory notes of such individual, partnership or corporation, or on the obligations of the United States."

Such advances shall be made for periods not exceeding 90 days and shall bear interest at rates fixed from time to time by the Federal Reserve Board, subject to the review and determination of the Federal Reserve Board.

Title V.—Section 501. This title is hereby approved, and of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of $2,000,000, which shall be available for expenditure, under the direction of the President and in his discretion, for any purpose in connection with the carrying out of this act.

Section 502. The right to alter, amend, or repeal this act is hereby reserved. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the act, and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Digest Banking Bill Prepared By Senator Thursday

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(P)—A brief, authoritative description of the emergency banking bill follows:

1. Validation of all emergency decrees and proclamations of the president and secretary of the treasury.

2. Re-enactment of sections of the old wartime trading with the enemy act, to prevent hoarding and to prevent the accumulation of gold reserves in the United States.

3. Grant to the federal government of power to control all national banks; state banks; and all other banking institutions; provision for prompt reorganization of non-liquid banks, and closure of non-liquid banks for the present.

4. Authorization for the reserve board to issue federal reserve bank notes, through reserve banks, against obligations of the United States, notes of corporations, partnerships or individuals secured by United States obligations and against notes of member banks when secured by sound assets.

5. Authorization of a senator who had studied the bill but was not an administration explanation.

6. Pointed pursuant to the provisions of this title shall be subject to the provisions of and to the penalties prescribed by the provisions of the revised statutes (U. S. C., Title 12, Sec. 592); and Sections 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, and 117 of the Criminal Code of the United States (U. S. C., Title 18, Sec. 202, 203, 204, 205, 206 and 207), in so far as applicable, are extended to apply to contracts, agreements, proceedings, dealings, claims and controversies with any such conservator or the comptroller of the currency under the provisions of this title.

Section 211. The comptroller of the currency is hereby authorized and empowered with the approval of the treasury, to prescribe such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary in order to carry out the provisions of this title. Whoever violates such rules and regulations pursuant to this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $5,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Title III.—Section 301. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, any national banking association may, with the approval of the comptroller of the currency and by vote of shareholders owning a majority of the stock of such association, upon not less than five days' notice to the conservator, make pursuant to action taken by its board of directors, issue preferred stock in such amount and with such par value as shall be determined by the conservator, and make such amendments to its articles of association as may be necessary for this purpose; but in the case of any newly organized association, the plan of reorganization shall be subject to the approval of the conservator, and the conservator shall have the right to examine and audit the books, records and assets of the association, and the conservator shall have the right to examine and audit the books, records and assets of the association.

EX-CONVICT GIVEN TWO YEARS ON TWO PLEAS OF GUILTY

WOOD BUTLER IS CHARGED BURGLARY AND POSSESSION OF NARCOTICS

Wood Butler, ex-convict, entered pleas of guilty to indictments for burglary and possession of narcotics before Judge Hawkins Scarborough Wednesday morning and was sentenced to two years in the Texas penitentiary in each case, the sentences to run concurrently.

Butler was tried in connection with the burglarizing of the Walker Drug Company last month at Kerens when watches and narcotics were missed.

He was arrested in Corsicana several days ago by county and city officers, and a quantity of merchandise including fountain pens, pencils, narcotics, cigarettes and other articles were found. The loot was said to have been secured in a couple of drug store burglaries in Calvert, Texas.

Records in the office of the local police department reveal that the defendant is on parole from the Arkansas penitentiary on a murder charge and has served four years to serve on that sentence in the event the parole is revoked. It is not expected local officers will seek to have the parole revoked.

No definite announcement has been made whether the defendant will be turned over to officers from Calvert of morphine and cocaine were found when Butler was arrested here, officers said.

FORMER KAISER IS NOT SEEKING RETURN THRONE OF GERMANY

LONDON, March 8.—(P)—Any prospect of former Kaiser Wilhelm II seeking to regain the throne of imperial Germany as a result of recent events there was stated today to have vanished through the former sovereign's own act.

If the London Daily Mail's correspondent at Bonn, Holland, accurately informed, Kaiser Wilhelm has completely and voluntarily abandoned the aim with which he has often been credited of again yielding power over his own people.

Instead he is reported seeking permission to spend his declining years in the privacy of his castle at Homburg, near Trier, in the famous mineral spring resort in Hesse-Nassau. He was 74 years old in January.

This request to return to Germany was said to have been undertaken by his second wife, Princess Hermine, when she recently went to Berlin from their residence in exile Dorn. She was reported seeking security for herself and her family from the new powers in Germany.

Meanwhile, the ex-kaiser was reported threatened with the necessity of leaving the country because of the financial situation in the United States. Just how or to what extent his income might be affected was not disclosed.

Knockknockers Get Twenty Dollars In Cash From Safe

Approximately $20 in cash was secured by burglars in an early a.m. Wednesday morning when they broke into the safe of the Corsicana Grader and Machine company, 307 East Third avenue, Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse announced Wednesday morning.

The burglars apparently were amateurs and knocked the knob off with a sledge hammer. Entrance to the building was effected through a rear window.

No clues or arrests had been reported by city or county officers at noon.

SENATE KILLS BILL FOR ELIMINATION OF SEVERAL COLLEGES

HAD ONCE ORDERED MINORITY REPORT ON BILL PRINTED BUT RECONSIDERED

AUSTIN, March 8.—(P)—The Texas senate this afternoon killed a bill by Senator W. R. Poage of Waco to provide for abolition of eight state colleges.

The action was taken on Poage's motion to print his bill on a minority report of the senate finance committee. The senate voted, 16 to 10, with two pairs to refuse to print the bill.

The senate had voted this morning, 14 to 13, to permit the bill to be printed. However, a motion to reconsider was made shortly before noon. Opponents of the bill forced the senate to stay in session until after 1:30 p. m., refusing to recess for lunch and finally killed the proposal.

The motion to reconsider prevailed, 18 to 10. A motion to re-refer the bill to committee was defeated, and the senate then killed the bill. The final votes were taken under operation of the "previous question," which shut off all debate.

The bill proposed to eliminate four teachers' colleges, North Texas at Denton, Southwest Texas at San Marcos, Sul Ross at Alpine and Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches, and the College of Fine Arts and Industries at Kingsville, the School of Mines at El Paso, the University of Agriculture at College Station and North Texas Junior Agricultural college at Arlington.

The finance committee voted last night, eight to three to give the bill and a favorable report. In asking that the bill be printed, Senator Poage said that he was willing to consider but that something should be done to reduce the costs of the state's higher educational system.

The house passed a bill to prohibit the Texas highway commission from routing established highways around small cities and towns without the consent of the county commissioners.

A bill to reduce the passenger motor vehicle registration fee by approximately one third was passed in the house. The bill would apply to light weight trucks.

A bill was passed by the house to allow water improvement districts to consolidate so as to effect a set-up whereby they could obtain aid from the federal government.

The house cleared the speaker's desk of local bills.

Included in the group were bills to reduce the salaries of the judge, clerk and reporter of the Jefferson county court-at-law; to validate the election at which bonds were voted for construction of a county jail and office building at Port Arthur and to allow the school trustees of Livingston to use a $50,000 donation to establish a retirement fund for payment of teachers' pensions.

The house refused to set as a special order for Friday morning a bill to provide for settling the claims of the state to one half the bonus and rentals from state-patented oil land in West Texas. Representative Sarah Hughes of Dallas, opponent of the bill, charged that there had been some "swapping out" on the bill and objected to its being set as a special order. The motion to set the bill was made by Representative W. E. Jones of Jourdan.

The house refused to concur in senate amendments to the judicial appropriation bill and asked appointment of a free conference committee. The request was granted by the senate. The principal difference between the two houses was in the matter of salaries of judges, the house appropriations being materially under the senate allowances.

Penalty for Attempted Assassination.

AUSTIN, March 8.—(P)—A bill to provide the death penalty for attempted assassinations such as the recent attempt on the life of Franklin D. Roosevelt was introduced in the Texas senate today. The proposal was offered by Senators Clint C. Small of Amarillo and Walter Woodul of Houston.

Appointments Are Made Wednesday By Mrs. Ferguson

AUSTIN, March 8.—(P)—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today appointed Larry Mills, Dallas county, and W. A. Morrison of Miami county, to the state board of education.

Mills and Morrison would succeed C. H. Chernosky of Houston and Ben F. Tinsinger of Garland. R. S. Sterling, former governor, reappointed Chernosky and Tinsinger but the senate refused to confirm them after more than one third of the senators decided that Mrs. Ferguson was entitled to representation on the board.

Mrs. Ferguson sent to the senate several other nominations at the same time she sent up the names of Morrison and Mills.

The other appointments were: Dr. J. B. Brady, dentist of El Paso, to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Ralph A. Erickson, deceased, on the state board of health; J. K. Brim of Sulphur Springs, Mrs. Doak Roberts of Dallas, and Mrs. J. M. Loving of Austin to the board of regents of the College of Industrial Arts, Denton.

L. J. Wardlaw of Fort Worth and Guy F. Anderson of Robertson county to the board of directors of Texas A. and M.

Brim, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Loving would succeed H. Nugent (Tinsinger) of Austin, Mrs. E. P. Turner of Dallas, and Ed Mays of Sweetwater.

Wardlaw and Anderson would replace P. L. Downs, Jr., of Temple and W. T. Montgomery of San Antonio.

FOOD FOR THE HUNGRY WAS THE CONCERN OF CHRIST BY THE SEA *

Present Pertinency of the Miracle of Loaves And Fishes—What It Reveals Concerning The Nature of God.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Christ cares for the common crowd's hunger. That big fact thrusts itself into the midst of all the day's discussions about God.

More truth about the character of Christ, and hence learned from this simple statement than from long hours of speculation. Do you want to know what sort of God the New Testament teaches? Then look upon the scene which is this lesson, who Jesus fed the five thousand, the need—less improvident multitude; and fed them, not because of their deserving, but simply because they were hungry. This was putting to the proof of the Master's own words about God's care for the birds of the air.

Is God Too Great To Care?

There is a curious kind of prideful intellectual notion abroad that if there really be a God—and that the bulging brains are not any too sure—He is too great a God to bother about the petty affairs of that infinitesimal creature, man. Science can understand a Diety who is a remote First Cause, who sets a whole machinery of things going, and then went off and left it. And science can envisage a Divine Spirit which permeates and energizes the cosmic processes.

But intellectual pride cannot conceive of this Infinite Being as interesting Himself in the bread-and-butter problems of ordinary folks. The very idea, they declare, is absurd; and entirely inconsistent with the greatness of the Eternal Ruler of the Universe.

Right there the scientists part company with Jesus Christ. He, who came to reveal God, over and over again declared Him to be a Father, loving, tender, patient, and concerned for anything that concerns His children. By precept and example, Jesus made it clear that this Father-care included food and raiment. "Your Heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things."

Over against all unbelieving speculations about God, we put this story of Christ's feeding of the five thousand. For "as Christ was then, so God is now." All that we can understand about the Father we read in the life and words and works of the Son.

The Father on the Phone.

Once I sat in the office of a New York man who is world famous for his millions and for his mind. In the midst of our talk the telephone bell rang. As my host took up the receiver, a change came over his face. The granite-featured leader of affairs wore the glowing, loving face of a father. His son was on the line and was making explanations about something that had gone wrong. The father was solicitous, sympathetic, forgiving. His last words were: "But it is because we love you."

That man of mighty interests was more concerned over the welfare of his children than over all his millions and everything they involved. He was a great man of the world; but he was a father first of all, more interested in whatever affected his children than in the state of the stock market or the relations of nations. That little incident recurs to me often as a picture of a greater father's solicitude for His sons. Indeed, is it not true that this individual attention which God pays to every one of us is a truer proof of His greatness than His work in settling the whirling spheres into motion?

A Religion for Hungry Men.

None of us is wise enough to trace the working of God's will in the meeting of the world's present need for food. Sometimes we seem to have glimpses of how He is effecting a large-scale change in conditions which permit His children to go hungry. Certainly, He has been punishing a disobedient social order which has been heedless of the cry of the poor. But we may build our faith on the truth that God is not uninterested in the plight of His people. He is slowly working out His purposes for mankind; which are the designs of an irresistibly loving Father.

So it is heartening to take up again this incident in the ministry of Jesus, when He fed the five thousand with the miraculously multiplied five loaves and, "two small fish."

Study of the Life could easily have found excuses for Jesus had He ignored the stomach-gnawing of this rabble. They had no real claim upon Him, except such as rested in His nature as the Father's sent Son. A series of grave events might well have engrossed Him. He had been back at His home town, Nazareth, where He met only incredulity and rebuff. The neighbors knew Him too well to believe Him. "Is not this the carpenter? Are not His family right here in our midst?" So Jesus reminding them that no prophet is honored in his own country, turned sorrowfully away, balked by their unbelief.

Then it was that He commissioned the Twelve, a great event in His ministry. Hard on the heels of this engrossing experience came the news of the murder of John the Baptist, by King Herod, at a dancing girl's whim. Upon the return of the apostles, Jesus called them into a mountain retreat, for rest and instruction.

But the insatiable crowds followed. "His heart was moved with pity for them, because they were like sheep which have no shepherd." All of His own personal burdens were forgotten, in compassion for the crowd.

A Concrete Food Problem.

This arose the food problem. The hour was late, supplies were remote, and the people were hungry. So the disciples took their practical problems to the Master; for the leader must make decisions for his followers. That is one of the costs of leadership. Only one suggestion, the obvious one, had the disciples; send the hungry multitude away to nearby farms and villages, to forage for themselves. That is about the "rest and new" form of thinking in the world. In the army it is called "Passing the buck." It takes a hundred forms in the face of present distress—let the government do it; the people; let the welfare committees feed the people; let their relatives feed the people; let the people go hungry. Anything to escape personal responsibility.

This Leader never dodged a duty. "Give them food yourselves," said Jesus—an amazing command to a little company of poor men, who had not yet learned the Lord's resources.

One Small Boy's Lunch.

In all that vast crowd, the only food in sight, discovered by Andrew, who was always interested in individuals—was one small boy's lunch, five barley cakes, with two sardines. The fish for so many. "But what are these among so many?" It would be well to dwell upon that lad's story, and the thoughtful mother who had packed his wallet. Imagine how interesting the word of Jesus must have been to keep a small boy from eating his lunch early! What a moral tale holds of the multiplying might of the Master, when our little gifts are given into His hand to be made much.

Recently the diggers have discovered, on the northern shore of Galilee, in a church of the early Byzantine period, a mosaic portraying this miracle of the loaves and fishes. It was on a hillside, in sight of the sea, that the Master set the five thousand on the green grass—that grassy plot caught the journalistic eye of Mark—ranging them in order, by hundreds and fifties. There was nothing casual or disorderly about this miracle. Jesus evidently intended that its full import should be lost on none.

The Wonder Falls.

In reverent acknowledgment of Divine Providence, after a fashion still followed in millions of Christian homes, Jesus said grace. Then, taking in His hands the small boy's food, He broke and broke and broke it into portions, in apparently ceaseless supply, giving the food to His disciples for orderly distribution.

Can you not see the amazed and awe-stricken eyes of the multitude fixed upon the Master, as He wrought this most sensational miracle? No lack of witnesses here. Something without precedent had befallen. The Wonder-Worker had created food, enough and to spare, in plain sight of thousands, who themselves ate of it and were filled. Here was an event to startle the world. It had momentous consequences, naturally, for it was proof beyond dispute that the Teacher was also the Miracle-Worker.

He fed the hungry; upon that rock we may build our faith. God cares.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.

He who knows most, grieves most for wasted time.—Dante.

Be of good memory if you become a liar.—Arab Proverb.

He prayeth best who loveth best. All things both great and small; For the dear God, who loveth us, He made and loveth all.

—Coleridge.

There is no music in a rest but there can be no music without a rest.—Anon.

Him that cometh to Me I will in no wise cast out.—John 6:37.

Assailed by scandal and the tongue of strife, His only answer was a blameless life.

—William Cowper.

I think that common sense, in a rough, dogged way, is technically sounder than the special schools of philosophy, each of which squints and overlooks half the facts and half the difficulties in its eagerness to find in some detail the key to the whole.—George Santayana.
